How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salution, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia Torpid Liver, Constipation etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

The Use That Miss Catharine Wolfe Has Made of Her Great Wealth.

"Howard" who has been "writing up" the fifty and hundred-millionairs, in the New York World, stoops to smaller game and gives an interesting sketch of Miss Catherine Wolfe, a lady who is worth only $10,000,000. Miss Wolfe is not so famous for her millions as for her noble benefactions; and her dangerous illness has been the occasion of filling the columns of the New York newspapers with anecdotes of her generosity. "Howard" says:

"She was a good woman from the time she first appeared above the horizon of affairs. That she may have been deceived, bamboozled, hoodwinked, now and then, is but to say she was human; but without her Grace Church would not today be the imperial pile it is; without her that useful edifice, Grace House, with its reading and lecture-rooms for the poor would not stand today. The poor convalescent in St. Luke's Hospital may well rise up and call her blessed, while the sad incurables in the Home can do no better act than to echo the refrain, as they rest in comparative ease and comfort on beds provided by her benevolence. Poor students in colleges at the far West have occasion to remember her name; and humble ministers, instinct with missionary devotion, who dry up under the scorching suns of India, or fade away in the uncanny miasmas of China, may well pray for long life to Catherine Wolfe here, and a happy existence in the dim future for one whose benefactions make their adventurous life and arduous tasks a little less unendurable. It is interesting to know that the woman was not a crank.

Chicago's Drink Bill.

Chicago, Dec. 27. One of the brewers of this city has lately given to the Freie-Presse some interesting facts in reference to the extent of beer-drinking here, upon which can be based a fairly reliable estimate of the cost of the traffic to the consumers, who are, in the large majority of cases, wage-earners and people of small means. The brewer states that the quantity of beer sold annually to the city of Chicago is 1,560,000 barrels, or 624,000,000 glasses, reckoning 400 glasses to the barrel. (The Milwaukee brewers represented here are alone said to sell 572,000 barrels, or more than one-third the entire amount.) Reckoning Chicago's population at 700,000, this gives over 890 glasses a year for every man, woman and child in the city.

The cost to the consumers of these millions of glasses of beer is about $31,200,000 for the whole city and the stranger that is within its gates! The estimate of 890 glasses per individual means an average annual expenditure of $44.50 for each man, woman and child.—Voice.

No More Secrecy.

The greatest philosopher that ever lived said, "He that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God." We command this remark to the careful perusal of every member of the United States Senate. The secret sessions of that body are an abomination which tends greatly to bring it into contempt, and it is a great injury to the moral tone of a people to be compelled to look upon their rulers as unworthy of that respect which their position and authority demand. It was admitted pretty frankly, during the debate on secret sessions last spring, that there were very good reasons why Senators dared not allow the public to know what took place in these sessions. We cannot conceive of any ground on which an honest man could intelligently defend this pernicious custom, unless it be the plea of necessity for the welfare of his party. The people have a right to know what course is pursued by each of their representatives and his reasons for following that course. A law should be passed at once declaring all sessions of the Senate open to the public, and requiring the President and his subordinates to give reasons for all removals from office. Civil service reform can never become efficient while the reasons for the removal of Goverment employees and for the confirmation of, or refusal to confirm, their successors are kept secret. If the nominations for office were to be discussed in open meeting of the Senate, the Administration would be all the more careful to see that no person was nominated whose record would not bear inspection. The present system is a disgrace to our nineteenth century civilization. —N. Y. Witness.

A Depraved Child.

A painful and unncommon phase of crime and depravity was revealed in New York recently, in the arrest of an eleven-year-old girl detected in the act of stealing pocket-books in a large store in the uptown shopping district. When arrested the child had over one hundred dollars in her possession which she had stolen during the day. She at first maintained her innocence, saying that her mother gave her the money, but afterward when taken to the police station, confessed that she was in the service of a women, not her mother, who had taken her around to the stores and taught her how to pick pockets. She had proved skilful at the business, her stealings for three weeks averaging from thirty dollars a day upwards. Her employer told her in the beginning that she must not come home with less than fifty dollars a day. Having a pretty and innocent face, and being fashionably dressed, the child wandered unnoticed among the throngs of shoppers in the stores, and plied her trade for a time with safety and marked success. When detected she was standing by the side of a woman who had laid a small satchel on the counter.—Ex.

The Character of Business Changed.

Said a merchant yesterday: "Do you know that Prohibition is changing the character of business in the inferior towns? Wherever Prohibition has been adopted the money formerly expended for whiskey is devoted to something else, and this has given rise to larger general business, and in some instances, new business. One country merchant told me this week that he sells 50 pairs of children's shoes, where he formerly sold one. The fathers used to drink up the shoe money and the children went barefoot. He said also that he sells quantities of women's hats and bonnets, and never sold anything of the kind before Prohibition was adopted. The husbands had no money, so the wives made their own bonnets out of calico and splits; now there is no gallon jug under the bed, and women have decent headgear and even ribbon. That is a solid fact and is a whole sermon if you choose to lengthen it out a bit."—From the Mobile, Ala., Register.

Religious News.

Several Methodist ministers and a number of lay workers in Chicago, Ill., prayed all night lately, in the Wabash Avenue Methodist church, for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit on that city.

Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage is quoted as saying, "I prepare my sermons usually by walking the floor or on a railway train. I can think better when in motion than when stationary. I sometimes jot down notes on a train, though I generally carry them in my head. When I go off on a journey, by the time I get back home I have sermons blocked out for a hundred and fifty years."

A very significant schism has occurred in the Salvation Army. A large body in Brooklyn, under the lead of "General" Moore, has seceded from the Army commanded by "General" Booth, and the latter is using his personal influence to bring them back again. The ground of disagreement was found in the demand of General Booth that all the property acquired by the Army should be vested in him personally.

The Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, during the year just reported, has made grants in money amount to nearly $115,000, and books amounting to about $60,000. It has helped to build ninety-two churches, schools and colleges in the colonies and among the missions of the Church of England.

The Twenty-seventh International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in San Francisco early in May, 1887.

There are twenty-three Welsh Congregational churches in New York and fifty-four in Pennsylvania, where the preaching is mostly or entirely in the Welsh language.

Dr. Philip Schaff is credited with the remarkable statement that there are more doctors of divinity in New York City than on the whole continent of Europe.

Mr. Spurgeon says of the Salvation Army, "If it were wiped out of London five thousand extra policemen could not fill its place in the repression of crime and disorder."

Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati, has forbidden Catholics to sing in Protestant or Jewish choirs.

The United Brethren in Christ are to have a memorial church in the city of York, York county, Pa.

The Christian brothers in New York are making preparations for erecting a school for boys, at a cost of $250,000.

Pere Hyacinthe preaches every Sunday in the amphitheater of the Chateau d'Eau, at Paris, to more than four thousand people.

The Free Methodist General Conference has taken action in favor of allowing women to take part in the government of the Church. The conference elected three general superintendents.

The senior minister of the Scottish Presbyterian Church, Rev. Walter Home, has lately died at Edinburgh, aged ninety-three. He was ordained in 1822, and was pastor at the town of Polwarth for forty-three years.

There are 182 colored Presbyterian churches in the South, with 12,985 members. Of this number 896 churches are in North Carolina, and 59 in South Carolina.

The Chicago training school for evangelists has, through efforts of Evangelist Moody, recieved $250,000 as an endowment fund from about a dozen individuals, the last donation being $25,000.

It was stated at the anniversary of the Methodist Freedmen's Aid Society, held recently in Boston, that the Society has eleven chartered iustitutions, seven of them devoted to the training of colored pupils, and twenty-one others, with 174 teachers and 5,526 pupils. It has under its care twelve institutions for white students, with 61 teachers and 1,740 pupils. These students are in rudimental studies, in normal departments, in university classes, and in professional schools for theological and medical training. Since the Society was formed, it has received into its treasury and disbursed $1,737,305.69. The receipts of the past year were $168,747.

"The Japan Mail reports a most remarkable preaching service held in Tokio, in the largest theatre of the city. The audiences are estimated from 4,500 to 6,000 each day. The preaching was mostly by native Japanese pastors, and the people listened for hours each day, while the Gospel was preached to them. The Mail says: The large attendance, the earnest attention, with so little dissent or interruption, in so public and free a place as the most popular theater in Tokio, give evidence of a marked advance in favor of Christianity within the space of one short year.'"

"Hope for a season bids the world farewell," when a man finds himself in the relentless grasp of neuralgia, but he smiles and takes heart and courage when his wife brings a bottle of Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain.

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM Washer

Active, honest persons all over the country, with or without team.

JOHN C. EVANS, STOCKTON, MO., writes: "I stood up and affirm that a Washer saves more hard labor and money in a large family than any Reaper and Mower that ever was put on any farm with less than 100 acres in cultivation. If you will get up any instrument that will take as much labor off of men as this Washer takes off the women, and save as much money as it does and cost no more, I could sell one at every house, if they had to take the feathers from under their wife and babies to pay for it."

JOHN S. DODGE, JR., jeweler, NORMAL, ILL., writes: "You ask what I think of the Washer; a couple last summer. Ist. It is the best machine ever invented by man. 2d. We have just as good dinners on Monday as on any other day. 3d. If you run short, you can not buy sure for $1000."

I will ship a sample to those desiring an agency on a week's trial on liberal terms. A thousand per cent the best washer in the world for saving labor, clothes and soap. Pays capable agents big money. Write for particulars.
